

The Alligator Ate

the Dinosaur

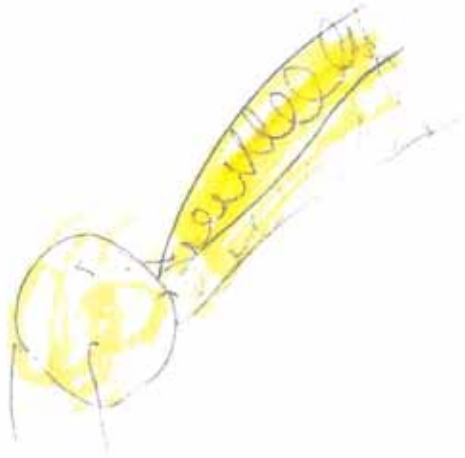

by: Tanner Hahn

An alligator walked into a market in New York.

It escaped from a zoo in China. It went to the airport in a cement mixer.

The alligator crawled out of the truck and onto a airplane.

It hid under the seats

because it was scared.

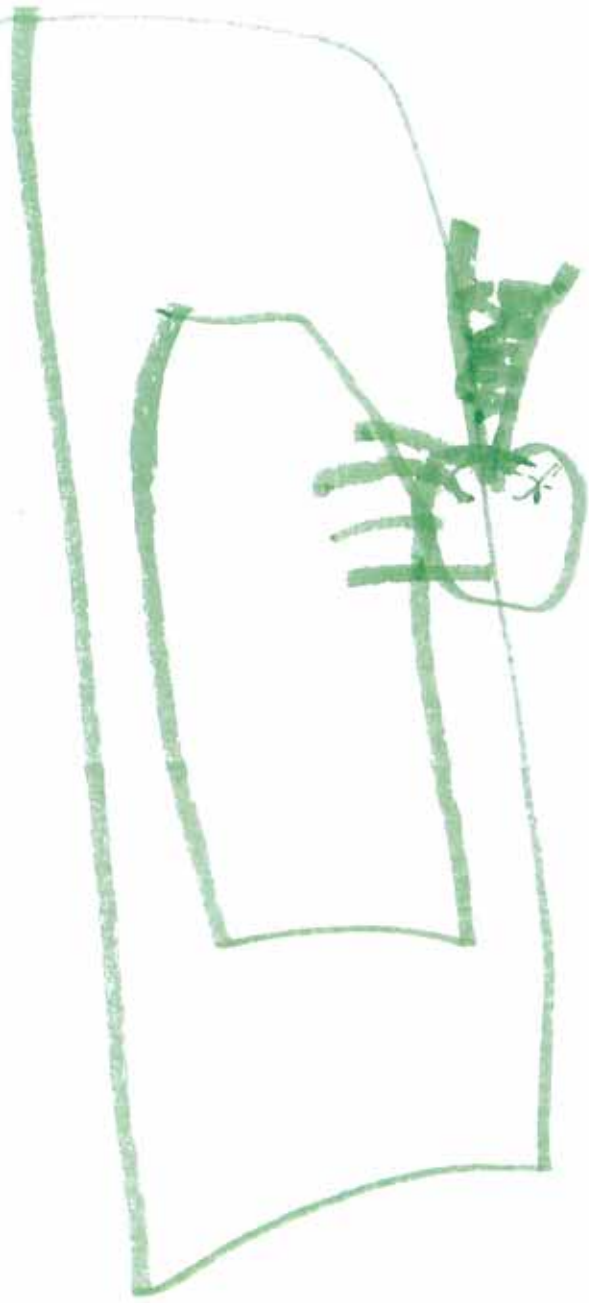

He was 100 feet long

The alligator landed in

New York and was hungry.

He ate a dinosaur.

He crawled up the side of a skyscraper and the building broke.
