

Berry the Bear. in. Sleepwalking trouble!

Once upon a time, there was a bear that loved to eat berries so much they called him Berry Bear. Like all bears Berry would sleep all winter.

But one day the strong smell of honey made Berry sleep walk. He stepped on a stick and woke his friends.

Berry walked and headed straight to a cliff. Not a cliff?

Terren the toad and Britny the frog puffed up their chins and made a soft landing pad for Berry.

Berry walked on toward a bed of thorn bushes.

Berry's friend Creg the crow flew down and grabbed Berry. Creg found Berry was very heavy.

Creg couldn't hold on to Berry and dropped him over a waterfall.

Ricky the raccoon saved Berry by grabbing his arm.

Berry then found the bee hive and honey. A hunter with a gun was near by.

Ricky the raccoon and Creg the crow led Berry away from the hunter.

Berry's friends had saved him. Berry returned safely to his bed. All the animals fell asleep.

The end

Berry woke up in time to see his friends Ricky, Creg, Britny, and Terren sleep walking away.

